SATURDAY, MARCH 19. NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The unusually large number of strangers in town of late, has been frequently remarked. Most of them have been attracted hither from San Francisco by packets, which just now have put the price of passage so low that it is about as cheap to travel as to live on shore. These low fares will continue to attract travelers during the summer, many of whom will wish to visit all the islands of the group during their stay. Those having charge of the repairs on the Kilauea, cannot do the traveling public a greater service than to basten her repairs, so that she may resume her route as a passenger boat. We really felt ashamed to see a dozen ladies and gentlemen growded into the seven-by-nine cabin of the Annie Laurie when bound last week to windward, as the best accommodations the far-famed Sandwich Islands can furnish their guests. If we invite visitors, we should provide accommodations for them, not only while in town, but for traveling from island to is-

MR. AND MRS. BREWSTER'S SCHOOL .- We congratate these teachers in the success which has attended their efforts, in teaching the youths of Honolulu. We learn that they propose leaving by the earliest vessel sailing for San Francisco, to visit their friends in America, and return in about six months. It affords us unfeigned gratification, that they have made the necessary arrangements for carrying on their school while they are absent. Miss Emma Smith and Miss Ellen Armstrong will assume the charge of the school upon the opening of next term. It is a most encouraging fact, that the standard of scholarship and discipline in all our schools, is being gradually elevated. On Thursday afternoon, at the school room, by invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, all who have ever been connected with the school, v'ere gathered around tables well furnished. The season was a most pleasant re-union. It must have been most gratifying to the juveniles to meet their teachers with no fear of black marks and "other terrors" looming up before the ir minds.

SORGHUM PANS.-The day may yet come when men of small estates and small means, possessing ten to twenty acres of good cane land, may be able to turn their attention to sugar making it the aid of these pans, improvements in which are being constantly made. Here is a report of one for which a patent has been applied for in Washington. We copy it from a paper published in that cay:

" An experiment was made in the Department of Agriculture lately, before a large number of persons, clearly amonstrating the practicability of every man in the North making his own sugar. A gentleman from Nebraska, J. F. Riggs, who is about taking out a patent for his process, was the operator. From sougham syrup, sent to the Department for exhibition, in the course of a few moments he prolinced a clean and pure sugar equal in all respects to the best coffee sugar, the residue of the syrup proving to be an excellent flavored article, strongly re-sembling amber or golden syrup of the shops, and entirely free from sorghum taste."

Appearising .- Both the English and Americans advertise very liberally in their own countries. One London firm, it is said, pays the Times over $150,000 per annum, and there are firms in the United States that annually pay that amount. Of course it results in an immense increase of business, but it pays in the end The London Times of a late date says : "The enormous sum of £800 ($4,000) was, during Christmas week, paid for the insertion of an advertisement on the back page of the Christmas number of a weekly serial."

Writers for the press should always take special care to write in a legible hand. Printers sometimes make ludicrous mistakes in consequence of being unable to decipher an author's hieroglyphies. A very popular authoress, speaking of her heroine as "enjoying more indulgences than usually fall to the lot of her sex," wrote the sentence so badly that it appeared as " usually fall to the lot of horses," the last two words having been written as

IF We referred last week to a public park. Wherever they are established they increase the value of property in the neighborhood, far more than the cost of the park. Instance the following :

"Mayor Ganther, of New York city, says in his message that Central Park has cost the city, up to January 1st, 1863, $7,372-426, but it has increased the taxable valuation of three wards adjoining, 27,000,000 from 1856 to 1862.

ROYAL HAWAIIAN THEATRE.-Mad. Duret, and Mr. J. H. Leroy again appeared last Saturday evening before a large and appreciative audience. Mad. Duret as "Young Nick Jr." was unsurpassable, and Mr. Leroy as "Jumbo Jum" was certainly excellent. His local speech was a decided hit. A change of performance will be given this evening. See advertisement.

TELEGRAPH CARDS .- The loss of coasters and placing of new ones on our island routes, has necessitated the issuing of a new edition. They can be had at the Post Office for 50 cents. The amount thus obtained goes to the support of the stations, and all our residents should purchase one if for that reason only.

Launcu.-On Saturday last, a new sloop was launched from the shipyard of Mr. Emmes. She is about 30 tons burthen, light draft, and was built for Mr. McColgan, who intends her for the Pearl River and "all along-shore" trade. The vessel has been named the Waimalu, and will be under the command of Capt. Craig.

SEE SUPPLEMENT .- The columns of our paper being somewhat crowded, we issue a "Supplement," in which will be found a great variety of interesting matter. Read it, and note the advertisements.

DROWNED.-Thursday night on the passage down from Lahaina, from on board the Moi Keiki, a Hawaiian sailor fell overboard while shaking out a reef. Efforts were made to recover him, but in vain.

Call in at Brewer & Co's. upper yard, and see the portable houses. They are all that the advertisement claims for them.

(Correspondence of the Pacific Com'l Advertiser.)

Sin :- In your comments on the late appointment of Police Justice in Honolulu, in your issue of 27th February last, you make the following statement : "Formerly, there were here in Honolulu, two Police Justices," (the italics are yours,) " one for natives, presided over by a Hawaiian, and another for for-

Permit me to ask you to define with some accuracy, the period to which you refer by the term " formerly," and also to name any Police Justice who ever held court here for "foreigners" only. I have made some inquiries on this subject, and am unable to trace the existence of any exclusively "foreign" Police Court here since the organization of the Judiciary department in 1846. I find that until the appointment of the late incumbent, there was one Police and one District Court in Honolulu, the former presided over by a foreigner, who had and exercised jurisdiction over all foreign and mixed cases, and also over all purely " native" cases, both civil and criminal, arising within the city boundary and within the jurisdiction of the city police appointed by the Marshal or Sheriff; while the native District Justice tried all native cases arising in the rural districts of Honolulu, and brought up by the country constables appointed by and amenable to the Governor. The number of cases in which natives were parties, tried by the Police Justice, was greatly in excess of those tried by the District Justice.

An intimate knowledge of the native language does not appear to have been "formerly" deemed indispensable or even essential to the due and efficient discharge of the duties of Police Justice, for the records of that court show, what the public is well aware of, that Mr. Bowlin, who held that office for some years. knew absolutely nothing of it; nor was Mr. Griswold, who held the office from October, 1855, till January, 1859, any more conversant with it during the first years of his incumbency, although by con. stant practice he had made some progress in it latterly, (perhaps not greater than the present incumbent,) but he never pretended to hold a conversation in it with a native. The records of the court show that during the first month of Mr. Griswold's incumbency, there were tried and disposed of, 268 purely native criminal, 68 mixed, and 14 purely native civil cases, and I never heard that any serious inconvenience was found to result from his deficiency as a native scholar. I have been unable to find any such objection on your part, but I do find that on his retirement from the office in January, 1859, you published the follow. ing notice of the event :

"POLICE JUSTICE OF HONOLULU.-J. P. Griswold, Esq. who for some time since has very worthily filled the position of Poice Magistrate of Honolulu, having resigned, R. G. Davis, Esq., was on Tuesday appointed by His Excellency the Governor to succeed him. Mr. Davis, though young in the legal profession, has studied hard, and has gained the reputation of a promising lawyer. We trust he may give satisfaction. The office of Po-lice Justice is one of the most disagreable and difficult posts to fill under this government, and the incumbent, let him fill it ever so worthily, will always find some that will be dissatisfied."

Assuredly the truthfulness of your closing comment has received a singular verification very lately. I have just learnt that the native lawyers practising in the Police Court here, have sent for publication in the Kuokoa, a document expressive of their entire satisfaction with the administration of that Court under the present incumbent, and denying the existence of any pilikia on their part because of the Judge's limited knowledge of the Hawaiian language. Honolulu, March 17th, 1864.

[For the Pacific Commercial Advertiser.] MR. EDITOR :- Will you favor me with reliable information upon a subject, perhaps, not very impor-

The official programme of the funeral of his late Majesty designates the Roman Catholic Bishop as " His Lordship Louis," etc., and also the Episcopal Bishop as "His Lordship the Rt. Rev.," etc. We have seen a good deal of this belording for some time past. It might have sprung from mere ignorance, not requiring notice, and the Bishops themselves may not have authorized it. In the present case, however, it takes high official sanction.

The gentlemen so named, are doubtless worthy of much respect for personal character and abilities, as well as on account of their positions in those portions of the Christian church over which they preside. But how are they Lords? English Bishops are really Lords, having equal seats with other Peers in the House of Lords, but as mere bishops, have no claim to the title. Hence colonial bishops are not entitled to the name of " Lord," as has been recently determined by a formal decision, if I am not misinformed. Is there any color of reason for giving this title to bishops in Honolulu, who have no ex officio part in the affairs of State? If any persons from habit or from any satisfaction it gives, choose so to address them, of course, no one but themselves need object. But when a grave public document so styles them, is it not a just cause of offence, unless good reason can

Although unused to that mode of address, I should wish to use it in speaking to these gentlemen, if they are entitled to it, and certainly not without. Can you, sir, enlighten upon this subject an inquisitive

Report.

KAUPAKUEA POST OFFICE, ¿ Hawaii, Feb. 20, 1864. To the Postmaster- General, Honolulu:

DEAR SIR,-The last clause of Section 411, Civil Code, enacts, "it shall be the duty of the several ocal Postmasters to make quarterly returns, &c., to the Postmaster General." &c.

It has pleased Providence and your predecessor that I should be "local postmaster" of Kaupakuea for the last four years or thereabouts, and till this day, I did not know there was such a law or requirement in existence, which is proof of my fitness for the office and the skill and abilities of your predecessor who appointed me. As I've never heard from you upon the subject, it is fair to presume that you are equally dark about the matter. It would give me ple sure to report to you all the transactions of this office, during my incumbency, if I knew anything about them, and that the enterprise did not smack a little of the gratuitous. In fact, I'm too lazy to be officious, and I trust, for the public good, that virtue pervades the department throughout the islands. Before the postal law went into effect in '59, the transportation of the mails, like native virtue, "was free as air" and twice as easy, and I've no doubt it was the intention of the framers of the law, to check a too free circulation of the intellectual blood, if I may so call it, by setting a gloomy face against it. At any rate, I have so understood the law, (which is my constitutional right,) and acted accordingly, not being instructed to the contrary. I have invariably frowned at every attempt of the people to purchase stamps, telling them it was much better to work hard for me at five dollars a month and found, than spend their time writing foolish letters and pay two cents each for the privilege. You will comprehend at a glance my exalted motives, which is to benefit myself at the expense of his Majesty's exchequer, and prevent ignoramuses from drowning themselves in the "Pierian Spring."

By overhauling your books, if you are weak enough to keep any, you will see at once by lack of credits for stamps to this office, that I have nearly succeeded in my endeavors to prevent my own people and neighbors from showing much cheek or making faces to creditors or constables outside of this favored and secluded spot. All of which has saved scoundrels from the judicial whip, an immense amount of litigation and jail fees to the Government, and as a reward for which, I expect the aloha of posterity and a continuance in office. At first entering upon its duties, I scorned to avail myself of the franking privilege attached to the office, owing doubtless to prejudices derived from mistaken notions in regard to the divine and irresponsible mission of the servants of the people. I suspect I'm bravely over all that now, for, by some unaccountable psychological, or mental or moral sumersault, or all together, if they mean the same thing, I not only take pleasure in franking my own letters, and occasionally one, on the sly, for a friend of the Government, but actually regret the five dollars paid out of my own pocket for stamps. These regrets are not from sordidness, for you know I would sacrifice my best friends rather than lose a dollar, so it must be owing to some other cause, probably an unconscious feeling of exemption from the common burdens of life natural to people in high office. Being heedless to this fact, explains the decline of British power, whose Queen and Ministers of State are obliged to pay postage like common folks. It explains also the "e claw" of other governments whose honored servants frank tons of intellectual pabulum daily, at the expense and for the benefit of the dear people. Our "corps legislatif" as the "gayest people in the world" call them, may take it nto their "collective wisdom" to alter the present inter island postal law, as well as some others, to make them resemble the British, now that we are under their temporal and spiritual dominion, but I trust you'll throw every pound of your official weight against it. I have a mind to say something in the name of my brother Postmasters, but not knowing their minds, I abstain. I dare say, however, we are one accord in regard to the burdens of the office, and particularly in this sparsely inhabited country, if the post offices were removed far from our residences. A "bint is as good as a kick" and a great deal better than traveling ten miles over rough roads to mail a letter and pay two cents besides. Please don't give out that "our burdens are greater than we can bear," lest the powers believe it. "One favor deserves another," and while coming to the sensible conclusion to continue me in office, I hope you will look into the breach of license committed by the schooner Manuokawai in failing to take the mail from Kawaihae to Honolulu after the wreck of the Emma Rooke, and thereby damaging this dignitary and others more than I dare attempt to state here. In fact, it was while seeking some christian method of revenge for the injury inflicted on us by this infraction of the postal law, that I happened to light upon a knowledge of my official duties, and for all which you will say, no doubt, lapuwale. ---- , Postmaster, Kaupakuea.
